

Planning for “What If...?”

Tools for Protecting Your Family and Managing Your Assets

Additional Resources

The following web sites provide information about the topics covered in this fact sheet series and/or offer search functions to locate a professional in your area.

National Association of Personal Financial Advisors (fee-only financial planners)

<http://www.napfa.org/ConsumerServices/>

Financial Planning Association

<http://www.fpanet.org/public/>

Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards

<http://www.cfp.net/learn/>

Social Security Administration

<http://www.ssa.gov/>

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

<http://cms.hhs.gov/>

American Bar Association

<http://www.abanet.org/public.html>

Self Help Legal Center, Southern Illinois University School of Law

<http://www.law.siu.edu/selfhelp/>

National Association of Insurance Commissioners

http://www.naic.org/insprod/catalog_pub_consumer.htm

Illinois Department of Insurance, Consumer Information

http://www.ins.state.il.us/Main/consumer_info.htm

University of Illinois Extension

Consumer and Family Economics web page

<http://www.ace.uiuc.edu/cfe/>

Is Your Financial Security at Risk? Interactive web site helps users develop a personal risk management plan

<http://www.urbanext.uiuc.edu/risk/>

Additional professionals you may find helpful:

Accountant

Public aid caseworker

Home health care agency

Insurance agent

Employer's human resources officer

<http://www.ace.uiuc.edu/cfe/whatif/index.html>

Written by Karen M. Chan, CFP™, Extension Educator, Consumer and Family Economics, University of Illinois Extension.

Reviewed by Donald L. Uchtmann, J.D., Professor, Department of Agricultural and Consumer Economics, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign; Mary Ann Fugate and Evelyn Prasse, Extension Educators, Consumer and Family Economics, University of Illinois Extension.

Copyright 2004 by the Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS
EXTENSION

Helping You Put Knowledge to Work